

Newusb Case Study

Raymond Rowe is an independent IT consultant who's launched many new business projects over the years and each time he's turned to Easyspace to get the right domain name.

He's purchased more than 70 domain names from Easyspace and what he likes is that he gets some traditional TLC along the way.

Raymond says: "What impresses me most about Easyspace is that there's always someone to speak to. I don't just write an email and then wait ages for a response like you do with some companies, there's always someone at the end of the phone who knows me and my businesses and reacts quickly to my requests. It's this personal touch as well as the great service and technical support that I like so much."

One of Easyspace's dedicated servers, all of which come with a 100% uptime guarantee, is also supporting his latest venture - an online radio station in the north west of England which promotes unsigned bands and singers.

Raymond explains: "We've got over 500 artists who we're promoting on the website at the moment and this should grow as we get more listeners both here in the UK and abroad. So, we're also using a dedicated server from Easyspace to host the website, making sure it's available around the clock."

Sarah Haran, managing director at Easyspace, adds: "I'm delighted that Newusb has chosen Easyspace for its hosting and domain names. The online radio station is a great idea to promote unsigned talent. You never know it might just unearth the next Oasis or Elbow."
